Preparations for the Chinese War.

Proparations have commenced at Hong Kong and Shanghai for the war in China.

"The four vessels from Shanghai which were announced as having sailed under scaled orders, comprise Her Majesty's ships Sampton, Actaen, Dore, and gun-boat Algerine. Two of these vessels are well-known surveying ressels, and it is given on good authority that this small expedition is intended to reconnoitre in the Gulf of Pechele and the mouth of the Peibo, and to take possession of some convenient slip of land which will be adviceable to our troops. A statement is also current that they were dispatched to capture some trading janks which had left Shanghai for the Peibo, and supposed to be loaded with arms and ammunition. It is also stated that the Chinese Government are casting heavy guns and using large quantities of American anthractic coal for this purpose. Guns of the largest caliber have also been imported from the United States. Her Majesty's ship Imperieus, 61 grans, bearing the flag of Rear-Admiral Jones, C.B., second in command, left Hong Kong for Shanghai on the 22d of February; she took up eix boats, each capable of landing one hundred men, a large number of tents, and a bridge or pier, which could be made wallable for landing troops over, the mud. She also had on board field carriages for mounting her thirty-two pounders, and a large quantity of ammunition and war stores. The British and French naval commanders are engaged at Hong Kong in chartering vessels and sleamers, organizing a Chinese coolie corps, and other necessary measures. General Montauban, the French military Commanders in Chief, has also arrived in France, and the Quartermaster-General of the British Army. From these active operations it may be argued that it is intended to push the expedition to the North dusing the present month, in perfect readiness for the decision of Lord Elgin and his French colleague, Baron Gros. The delay in their departure will consequently be a source of great desappointment and anxiety. Scrange and Atroclous Crime in Canada— Great Outrage by "Bible Christians"—A Mun and Woman Tarred and Feathered— Two of the Offenders to be Executed. In relating the issue of a case recently decided in the Assize Court, in Canada, the Woodstock (C. W.) Times, of April 28.

It appears that a farmer by the name of Brown, residing in the township of Dereham, has a wife, who happens—like must of her sex—to have "a tongue in her head." Mrs. Brewn and her neighbors, once on terms of intimacy, lately have had their differences. These differences, in the course of events, assumed a seriousness that seldom belongs to country sendal.

assumed a seriousness that seldom belongs to country scandal.

Mrn. Brown's neighbors, being for the most part members of a denomination called the "Bible Christians," took the occasion of the dedication of their denominational edifice as the fitting time for planning ber humiliation and disgrace, which, in their Christian forbearance, was to be nothing beyond a tarring and feathering. The kind offices of these devout people were also to be extended to the male Brown. The scheme, so well planned, and in which so many joined, old as well as young, male as well as female, was not put in practice until the winter season, as the general inclemency of the weather about that time gave certainty that the operation would not only be disgraceful but painabout that time gave certainty that the opera-tion would not only be disgraceful but pain-ful. Consequently, on the list of December list, the party being formed and the neigh-borhood on tip-toe of excitement, the attack was made. It does not appear who led this gallant phalanx of pious scoundrels. They, however, presented themselves, a little after eight o'clock, at the door of the domicile of however, presented themselves, a little after eight o'clock, at the door of the domicile of the Browns, and demanded admission.

Mrs. Brown, in her fright, on the entrance of her cowardly assallants, fled to the garret. The male Brown, with ax in hand, stood inside the bed-room door, when the gallant Captain of this Christain force gained the center of the fleor, and spoke the terms of treaty, which were these. The Browns were to surrender themselves, trusting for their lives to the clemency of their captors, whereupon a party was deployed to seize Mrs. Brown, while Mr. Brown, in an almost nude state, was marched off in charge of three men. Quick followed the other party with Mrs. Brown in charge, her imploring accents mingling with the martial tread of her gallant escort. After traversing to within ominous proxomity of a rushing stream, the party haited. There, in the biting wind, began the duty of the night, which was to be rewarded by a sumptuous feast at the hospitable board of the benevolent and exemplary Smith, the leader of their church.

A day or two since in St. Louis, says the Bulletin, two or three gentlemen were standing talking together on the sidewalk, when three negroes came out of an alley, and one of them, Smith Lewis, appeared to be considerably intoxicated. He jostled against one of the white men's arm; white man gave him a push out of the way, and the negro at this drew a Bowie-knife and made an attempt to stab him. A general row ensued, in which several, both white and black, got somewhat injured. The negroes fied but a policeman managed to overtake one of them whom he supposed to be the right one, and arrested him. He was taken to the station-house, followed by several hundred people, who began to cry, "lynch him," "shoot him," &c. The gentleman who was the chief actor in the scene, came up and informed them that they had arrested the wrong negro. The crowd seemed anxious for blood, but concluded to let the fellow go.

Smith, the leader of their church.

Tar was applied liberally to the head, the body, and the legs of Mr. Brown. Like favors were bestowed upon Mrs. Brown, under the direction of a man named Snell. This was not enough. These "Bible Christians" were not yet satisfied. Though there was but one unmarried man among them, the worst was to follow. Brown was held captive on the crispt cold ground, while Mrs. Brown was marched to the house from which she was dragged, and then made to suffer the greatest disgrace that can befall a woman; her resistance rendered of no effect by the efforts of that "most excellent young man"—as described by one of the witnesses for the defence—Mr. Franklin Moyer, her supplications and beseechings stifled by the hand of the monster Moyer, himself but six months a husband. Snell, and another who has flown the country, were the perpetrators of the THE CANADAR TO HE DISSOLVED.—La Garette de Soret says: For some time the situation has appeared to describe itself clearly. There will soon be only two parties—that of Upper and Lower Canada. That will naturally bring about the dissolution of the Union pure and simple. In effect, in both Provinces, there is more and more opposition to the "federation" of the extreme "Clear Grits." In Upper Canada, however, they will never abandon the project of representation based on population, and after the next vacation Upper Canada will insist, with success, as we expect, on the obtainment of that measured. In their own defense, Lower Canada must demand the repeal of the Union until that be obtained. husband. Snell, and another who has flown the country, were the perpetrators of the cruelty and the crime; Moyer, the 'excellent," coolly twisting his moustache, and in "Bible Christian" indifference a spectator of this disgusting—this diabolical inhumanity. This was the offense for which these human monsters were put upon trial.

Franklin Moyer and Jacob Snell were sentenced to be executed on the 5th of June.

DISCOVERY OF AN ABANDONED SLAVER.—About April 18, the whaling schooner Risnza, of Provincetown, felt in with, on the south side of Porte Riso, a brig of about three hundred than a sandoned, with all sail set, having on board a large quantity of provisions and runs, and otherwise fitted for a slaver. Bullet holes were found in the doors in the cabin. The cabin was much disfigured, as if an affray had taken place. She had no papers, colors, or anything on board whereby she could be identified; she was taken in charge The Distinction Between Genius and Good Sense.—Genius is a rare and precious gem, of which few know the worth; it is fitter for the cabinet of the commisseur than for the commerce of mankind. Good sense is a bank-bill, convenient for exchange, negotiable at all times, and current in all places. It knows the value of small things, and considers that an aggregate of them makes up the sum of human affairs. Good sense has not so piercing an eye, but it has as clear a sight; it does not penetrate so deeply, but as sight; it does not penetrate so deeply, but as far as it does see, it discerns distinctly. Good sense is a judicious mechanic, who can produce beauty and convenience out of suitable means, but genius (I speak with reverence of the immeasureable distance) bears some remote resemblance to the Divine Architect, who wend used nevertication of hearty with the terms. A BURGLAU'S DEN DISCOVERED.—A supposed bugglars nest in or near Baltimore, was invaded by the police officers the other day, with the most promising results. On the premises, which were those of Adam Hertig, were found as great an assortment of articles as were ever kept in a country store. There were bacon and buggy wagons, beef and butchers' carts, carriage, harness and brossels carpets, handkerchiefs, and copper boilers, besides leather, shovels, overcoats, and a variety of articles almost innumerable. who produced perfection of beauty without any visible materials: "who spake, and it was visible materials: "who spake, and it was created;" who said, "Let it be, and it was."

A Boy Favally Bitten by a Rattlebnake. Recently a son of Peyton W. Balley, residing near Sylvan Grove Postoffice, S. C., being in the woods with his dog, supposed by the barking of the animal that he had pursued a rabbit to a hole under a clay root. Putting in his hand to feel for the rabbit, he was bitten by a rattlesnake, which had taken refuge there. The lad, feeling his danger, bound his arm tightly with one of hs suspenders above the wound, and ran for home, but fell blinded from the effects of the poison before he reached there. His cries, however, attracted the attention of the family, and he was borne home and whisky freely administered, until it produced its usual effect. His SUICIDE OF THE GRAND NEPHEW OF ROBERT BIMETT.—In New York, a day or two since, James J. Emmett, a son of Mr. Thomas Addis Emmett, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head with a pistol. The deceased retired to bed, with his brother, at the usual hour, and after lying down took up a pistol and perpetrated the fatal deed. The deceased was about twenty-seven years of age, and resided with his parents. He is supposed to have destroyed himself on account of ill health. tered, until it produced its usual effect. His arch, however, below the bandage swelled, tured black and burst, and after living about two days he expired.

DE LAVE IN NEW ROPE-WALKING FRATE.—
Mons. De Lave, the individual who created so much of a stir at Rochester, N. Y., in crossing the Genesee River on a rope, just about the time Blondin was performing his wonderful feats at Niagara Falls, is just now making arrangements to cross the Mohawk River, just below the Falls at Cohoes, on a single string. He will also put up a rope and cross the chasm at stated periods during the season. OUTRAGEOUS TREATMENT OF EMIGRANT PASSENGERS.—The passengers on board the British ship Constitution, arrived recently from Liverpool, complain of receiving during the passage the most brutal treatment from the passage the most brutal freatment from the surgeon and crew, that could be conceived. They were beaten and knocked about as if they were brutes. Upon leaving, while on board the steamer Satellite, all huddled to-gether, without any protection for their bodies, a shower of large tin cans were thrown at them from the ship by the mate and crew, severely injuring several of the and crew, severely injuring several of the passengers. Two women were so badly hurt as to require aid to walk, their heads being but and bruised to a fearful extent.

The Tonawands band of Senaca Indians, who sold their reservation lands in Kansas, three years since, to Government, for $256,000, have purchased back some seven thousand acres of their old home in the region of Buffalo, New York, and will settle upon it as one of the most comfortably-situated and amplyandowed little colonies in the world. A Vicious Bull.—Some days since, as John Greene, of Broome, New York, was leading his bull from a pasture-lot to the barn, the animal, from some cause, became irritated, and suddenly attacked him. The onset was so unexpected, and Mr. Green being completely off his guard, that he was hurled violently to the ground. So long as Green remained quiet, however, the bull ceased to molest him; but on making the least effort to rise, the infuriated animal would recommence the attack. Fortunately, his perilous situation was discovered by a man plowing near tion was discovered by a man plowing near by, who went to the rescue in time to prevent Green's being gored to death.

STOLES BANK-NOTES REDERMED.—Two five-hundred-dollar bills, on the Atlantic Bank of Boston, stolen from Adams's Express, some days since, have been received by that Bank, in their regular course of redemption. They were received from the Metropolitan Bank, New York, which redeemed them for one of their corresponding banks in Burlington, lowa. The Bank of Indolence.—Idleness is the bane of body and mind, the nurse of haughtiness, the step-mother of discipline, the chief author of all mischief, one of the seven deadly sins, the cushion upon which the devil chiefly reposes, and a great cause not only of melancholy, but of many other diseases, for the mind is naturally active, and if it be not occupied about some honest business, it rushes into mischief, or sinks into melancholy.—Burton. A Large Share Shor.—Joseph Macy, of Liberty Township, in this State, while hunting in the woods, on Saurday last, shot a black spake, measuring T feet 10 inches in length, and 10 inches in circumference.

A Prolific Farily.—John Sherman, in Pownal, Vermont, had born to him, on the day he completed his seventleth year, a son, and he called his name Levi; and on the same day was born unto him a grandson and great-grandson, the parents at the time residing in three different States. All three of the boys are living now.

Testimeny of a French Milliner Respecting Female Dress.

Madame Lariene ascended into the pen, and took her place, after delivering herself of a stately stoop to the judges and the court, like a grand dame of the reign of Louis KtV. She did not give their lordships any trouble about taking her seat—not she! When her attention was called to the various acts of cruelty, both of speech and act, with which Mr Barber was charged on account of Mrs. Barber's alleged extravagance in dress, she clasped her hands in an emphatic way, and exclaimed, "Ah! Mon Dieu! e' set injume—le barbare!" She then explained to the court that the usual Parisian calculation for a lady's dress varied proportionately with the family income, and that the amount of the dot brought by the wife was invariably taken largely into account. Upon an income of 25,800 francs, she could positively affirm—assuming two children—that a lady was economical who only expended 10,000 francs of dress. Mrs. Barber, in her opinion, was entitled to expend, at least £400 per annum on this object. The sum of £200 per annum was a misere—it was mesquine—deplorable! Was £35 too much for that evening robe of white satin? Assuredly not! The court must take into account that there were boullonnes of the same under the skirt, which was designer? And then their lordships would readily see that there must be a low to match at the front of the body. For a terry velvet bonnet, trimmed across the front with a scar of the same, five guineas were a bagatelle. No, there would be no blonde unside. Fix done! due! gene! The outer dress—petitiooats, sleeves, collars, cuffs, gloves apart—she could not set a lady's little corner conforts down at less than £60 per annum. In answer to Dr. Lobb, in cross-examination, she intimated to blim that she had beeu speaking hitherto of ludies; but she was quite prepared to admit of ludies; but she was quite prepared to admit of ludies. at less than £60 per annum. Proper Mode of Cultivating the Straw

Mr. R. G. Pardee, of New York, in a lecture Mr. R. G. Pardee, of New York, in a lecture at Yale College, on the strawberry, says:

The following is the best method to cultivate the strawberry: Select a warm, moist, but exposed situation; for early berries let it slope to the east or south; for late ones to the north. The soil should be a fine gravelled loam. Avoid high, barren soils, and those which are wet. To prepare the soil, make it clean; underdrain, leaving the drain open at both ends, to allow the circulation of air. Pulverised at least two feet in depth, making ten per cent. of the soil as fine as superfine flour. For manure apply thirty bushels of unleached ashes, and twelve bushels of lime slacked with water, holding three bushels of salt in solution to the acre. Transplanting should be done with great care, and the rootlets at the plants injured as little as possible. The best time to transplant is in the spring, though, with care, it may be done at any time during the summer. The lecturer said he would, in starting a new bod, place the plants three feet spart. Water may be added with great advantage, in large quantities, except during the flowering and ripening periods, provided always it does not stand and become stagnant on the soil. The hoe should never be used about the plants, as it injures the roots. The productiveness of the strawberry about New York does not average more than forty bushels to the acre. There is no difficulty in raising one hundred and fifty bushels under the cultivation recommended. In the winter the plants should be lightly covered. at Yale College, on the strawberry, says:

An Old Man Kills His Wife's Paramour.

A horrible murder was perpetrated at Poquomack, Connecticut, on the 6th inst. Two Irishmen, Daley and O'Neil, went out for a ride and came home somewhat intoxicated. They had a quarrel when they returned, and Daley's wife went out to the barn to put the horse up, and while doing so Daley and O'Neil continued their quarrel. When she came out Daley had O'Neil by the hair of the head. After awhile they separated, and Daley went into the house with his wife, requesting her to lock the door, saying. "O'Neil will kill me." She, however, paid no attention to what he said, and presently be went out to the barn, and almost immediately she heard the sound as of a blow. She rushed out and found O'Neil lying upon the ground, with his head nearly severed by a deep cut from an ax.

ground, with his head nearly severed by a deep cut from an ax.

It appears that Daley, when he went out, renewed the quarrel by knocking or throwing O'Neil down, and then dealt him a powerful blow with the ax, which he had taken from the barn. The ax, covered with blood, lay near the body. Daley then went into the village and reported that he had "killed a man." He made no effort to conceal himself, and was at once arrested. The quarrel originated in jealousy on the part of Daley, who suspected O'Niel of improper intimany with his with. Daley is an old man, alightly bald and gray-haired, and is sixty-six years of age.

AN ACCURATE DESCRIPTION OF JAIL-BREAKing,-A short time ago a fellow named Crandall escaped from the Allegany County (Penn.) Jail, and wrote back the following note to his former custodians:

"I suppose it is a mystery to some how I got away, and consequently I will give you a brief history of my departure. The modus operandi was thus I got out of my cell by ingenuity, ran up stairs with agility, crawled out of the back window in secresy, slid down the lightning rod with rapidity, walked out of the Angelica town with dignity, and am now basking in the sunshine of pleasure and liberty."

Parliamentary Plesanates on Price Fighting.—They had laughter in the House of Commons over the Hecean and Sayers fight. Sir George Lewis said that everybody who was present was liable to arrest, at which there was great merriment and loud calls for Mr. Monckton Milnes, who was a member and was present at the fight. Mr. Scally said that if such an occurrence had happened in Ireland, the English papers would have been unanimous in denouncing it, and would have characterized all who absted the proceedings as complete savages.

Southern Secession Demonstration.—The citizens of Sumpter, S. G., in goodly numbers, assembled together on Tuesday evening, for the purpose of making some demonstration in approbation of the set of such of our Southern delegates as seceded from the Squatter Sovereignty Free soil Platform, adopted by the National Convention on Monday last. Much enthusiasm and warmth of feeling prevailed, which was exhibited in frequent outbursts of cheering. The performances conbursts of cheering. The performances con-sisted of the firing of cannon, and a display of rockets, transparencies, with music.

A Merchant Burnt to Death in his Own Store.—On Friday night, the store occupied by George O. Askew, in Bertie County, North Carolina, was entirely consumed by fire, with the contents, and the next morning the heart of the proprietor was found among the smoking cinders.

The Covode Committee

Washistoros, May 10.—Most serious and important developments were made before the Covode Committee. Mr. Wendall was called upon to show how the $30,000 or $40,000 which he said had been expended in carrying the English Bill through the House had been applied. His books were compared with those of the Bank of the Metropolis, which was represented by Mr. Stusri, its book-keeper. He proved that the money had been distributed through Mr. Bean, of Ohio, clerk in Mr. Allen's office in the last Congress, and Alex. H. Hay, of Pennsylvania, a gentleman of elegant leisure, well known in sporting circles, and Washington correspondent of the New York Express, and Secretary of the Union and Constitutional Committee over which Mr. Grittenden presided. Mr. Hay received the largest sum for distribution, and the money was appropriated excituively to carry the bill through the House. Mr. W endall did not deny that $10,000 or $15,000 had been authorized for a single vote, and admitted that these payments were made in expectation of being remunerated through government patronage, by which he had previously profited to a large extent. He testified having had many conversations with the President during the progress of the English Bill, and in reference to that subject.

The Senate Committee on Territories met this morning, and reached an unexpected conclusion, considering previous developments. Six members were present, and when the question was put whether the boundaries chould be altered as proposed by Mr. Green, Mr. Latham moved in the negative—thus tieing the committee and preventing an amendment from being reported.

Mr. Latham's course may effect the ultimate decision in the Senate, and possibly carry Kansas despite Southern combinations. It is reported that the name of Mr. Bussell, of Ulster County, New York, and one of the delegates to Charleston, will be sent into the Senate to-morrow as Navy Agent, eice Geo. H. Sanders removed.

The House Naval Committee have finished their amendments to the Senate bill, increasing the pay of the Navy. It is substantially the Senate bill. It changes the pay of surgeons, making the pay more uniform. It will be reported to the House on Monday next, with the view of putting it upon its passage.

Lord Lyons had a protracted interview with the Secretary of State to-day in regard to the San Juan affair. It is pretty evident that the matter is not so easy of solution as Lord John Russell supposed.

The proposition of the English Government and the final settlement has been peremptorily and positively declined by our Government, and the final settlement is as covernment, and the man settlement is an remote to-day as it was in the beginning. Our Government, as from the first, maintains its undisputed right to the island. What new position England will next assume in the matter the next mail will probably disclose. New York. New York.

tory, and the situation of foreigners is extremely precarious.

Calcutta letters state that affairs have been quite serious in the indige districts, but Government had passed a law making any breach of contract a criminal offense. This, it was hoped, would tranquilize the districts, and save crops. The export market at Calcutta was depressed by the scarcity of tunnage and rates. The British war-vessels before reported sunk by Chinese forts on the Peiho River, are the Dose and Algerine.

Lord Russell stated in the House of Commons, Friday, that Government was exert.

against the concert saloon which faces the garden.

The basket caught for a moment under the projecting eves of the building, then was nurled against a skylight with great force. The baltoon instantly collapsed. Mr. Connor was found, on the roof of the building, and the physicians, who were immediately summoned, ascertained that his injuries were principally internal. During the evening he remained insensible, and expired at eleven P. M. His wife witnessed the casualty, and would probably have shared her husband's fate had the ascension power of the balloon been found sufficient to carry up two persons, as it was her intention to attempt a voyage.

Beston, May 11.—A Spanish brig, supposed to be a slaver, was brought into Province-town, last evening, by Mr. Hill, second master of the schooner Rienzi, which fell in with her at sea. She had all sail set; no one was on board of her. She was furnished with large quantities of water, rice, peas, beans, bread, fish and beef, and had also a large amount of humber for a slave deck. She was probably from Havana for Africa. A receipt on board had the words "Brig Don Juan" written on it.

Rain Storm at Baltimore BALTIMORE, May 11.—We have had a tremendous rain storm all night; the rain is still falling, though it is somewhat abated. There is a great flood on the falls, and the streets in the vicinity are overflowing, and it is feared that serious damage has been done above the falls.

PHILADRIPHIA, May 10.—Hon. John C. Hell is at La Pierre House, in this city, and pre-parations are making for a grand screenade to him to-morrow night. WOMEN AND TIME. One of the most sin gular evidences of the rapidity of time's flight is the fact that even the matest of our American women never keep up with their own age beyond the twentieth year-stone.
